DETAILED ACTION

RCE Practice

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR § 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR § 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR § 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR § 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/06/2003 has been entered.

Claims 1, 3, 4 and 6-14 are pending in the application.

Claim 7 was withdrawn from further consideration on the merits as being drawn to a non-elected invention in the Office Action of 2/26/2002.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 6 and 8-14 were examined on the merits.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Objections

Claim 9 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 9 recites 'daily does' while it is thought that Applicant intends for this to read 'daily dose'.

Claims 6 and 12 recite 'Gcyrrhiaza uralensis Fisch.)'. Here, it is thought that Applicant intends for only one parenthesis to appear after 'Fisch.'.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 11-14 recite additional constituents added to claims 9 or 10. These claims are indefinite in that claim 9 stated 'consisting of' which is closed language:

The transitional phrase "consisting of" excludes any element, step, or ingredient not specified in the claim. In re Gray, 53 F.2d 520, 11 USPQ 255 (CCPA 1931); Ex parte Davis, 80 USPQ 448, 450 (Bd. App. 1948) ("consisting of" defined as "closing the claim to the inclusion of materials other than those recited except for impurities ordinarily associated therewith."). A claim which depends from a claim which "consists of" the recited elements or steps cannot add an element or step (emphasis added) See MPEP § 2111.03.

Applicant is asked to cancel the claims, or rewrite the claims in independent form in order to overcome this rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1, 3-4 6 and 8 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mach (US 4,487,766).

Applicant's arguments were fully considered, but not found persuasive.

Applicant argues 'As demonstrated by the TABLE, located at page 10 of the specification, this combination of cholic acid and at least one member chosen from the group consisting of isoflavones or isoflavone glycosides produces biologically synergistic effects" (pp. 6 and 8-Arguments). However, as previously indicated, the Table on page 10 of the Instant specification does not demonstrate that any particular amount of cholic acid and isoflavones act in a synergistic manner, but have shown that the combination alone produces these effects. Because the combination of cholic acid and isoflavones has this effect, the combination of cholic acid and isoflavone as disclosed by Mach must have had the same effect, and was thus intrinsic to the composition.

Applicant argues that Mach et al. did not specifically disclose the particular amounts of cholic acid and isoflavones. Applicant is reminded that the outstanding rejection is a 103 rejection and not a 102 rejection. Therefore, it is clear that Mach did not teach the amounts of cholic acid and isoflavones present in the claims. However, it was made clear in previous Office actions that variations of constituent amounts in animal feed was routine in the art at the time the invention was made; and thus, the amounts found in the claims would have been within the purview of the ordinary artisan, especially lacking any evidence of unexpected results with regard to these particular amounts.

Applicant again argues that Mach did not teach that the animal feed was for human use (p.6- Arguments). It is reiterated that the Instant claims are not drawn to human use: In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., human use) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Applicant argues that Mach 'anticipates the composition that further comprises a "crude drug". This argument is moot considering the claims do not recite 'crude drug'.

Applicant argues that Ogawa does not satisfy the deficiencies of Mach because Mach did not teach the particular amounts of cholic acid and isoflavones (p.8-Arguments). As discussed supra, as well as in previous Office Actions, although Mach did not specifically teach the claimed amounts of cholic acid and isoflavones, the ordinary artisan would have had a reasonable expectation that these amounts would have been suitable to use as animal feed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 10 is objected to as being dependent upon an objected base claim (claim 9) but would be allowable if claim 9 is rewritten to overcome the objection set forth supra.
